The week that was.....

It's hard to believe that it's now December. With two weeks of school remaining this year, there is still so much to do.

Secondary students are breathing a sigh of relief as assessments for 2016 have been completed. Staff have been working hard over the past few weeks to ensure assessments are finished and marked. Reports are well on the way to completion. These will be handed out to students on Wednesday 14th December.

As we draw closer to the end of the term, it does not mean that the learning stops. Students are still involved in normal classes and are working as usual. On Tuesday I went into the Year 5/6 room and was impressed to see their work with graphs. Students were working in groups, learning together. There was not one student who was not on task. I also wandered into a Year 9/10 Science class yesterday. It was fantastic to see all students engaged in an experiment involving making a bridge out of straws and testing the weight it could hold. I was fortunate to teach the Year 9/10 Food Technology class yesterday in Mrs

Wason's absence. I was impressed by their cooking skills and I look forward to seeing their completed star cookie Christmas trees.

Even though we are close to the end of the year, our professional learning has not stopped. Mr Dodhy has been away this week at a Covey Leadership course at Lake Cargelligo Central School. He is finding it very interesting and has identified tools we will be able to use at school. Mrs Parkinson is at Condobolin High School today working with a number of other teachers, both primary and secondary, on the new Geography syllabus. Mrs Parkinson will then lead the implementation of Geography across the school.

Geography

It is that time of year where we decide on the 2017 school captains. The students who were running for election gave their speeches at yesterday's morning assembly. It was evident in their speeches that they were all passionate about the school captaincy. Well done to all! Students and teachers have voted and Miss Imrie will conduct the count this week. 2017 captains will be announced at our Presentation Night next Tuesday.

Next Friday we are holding a mini concert, showcasing the talented musicians we have at Ungarie Central School. Come along for an entertaining afternoon.

Until next week,
Terrie Payne

Primary News

Primary School Captains

On Wednesday four possible Primary School Captains braved their peers and made their speeches. The speeches were fantastic and showed the time and effort the students had put into them. Congratulations, Sammy, Ella, Hayley and Hugh for a job well done. Now we have to wait until Presentation Night to find out the exciting results. Good luck to you all.

On Friday, 9th December P & C will be hosting a disco in the undercover area of the canteen. The disco begins at 5pm and glow sticks, drinks and food will be available. All are welcome but preschoolers must be accompanied by an adult.

UCS Musical Performance

On Friday, 9th December, there will be a musical extravaganza at 12.30pm showcasing our talented musicians including the famous Bucket Drum Band. All are welcome and we

Students have been working on a major project in Careers this year. The task was to imagine they had left school and were returning for their 15 year high school reunion. Students had to write and present a speech outlining the things that they would like to have accomplished in this time frame. Students then had to present their speeches to parents teachers and peers.

All students did a fantastic job with this task. It will be interesting to see how they go at achieving all these ideas in the future.
